

Interesting Farm Facts

In the late Middle Ages, it was a common practice to rent or lease land for agricultural purposes for a fixed monetary payment rather than a percentage of the crop. The sum of money to be paid was called ferme – or, in Modern English, farm.

Pigs can run 11 miles per hour

Sheep have two toes on each foot

Goats have rectangular pupils, allowing them to see in the dark.

Cows can sense a storm coming & will lie down

Chickens are one of the easiest farm animals to raise for profit
